The Arts are my lifelong passion. After receiving a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree from the University of Illinois, I studied Copper Enameling with Richard Loving at the Art Institute of Chicago. A Masters Degree in Fine Arts from Northwestern University in 1978 completed my formal arts education. I have also acted and directed professionally and have been a member of Actors' Equity Association, the Screen Actors Guild, and the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

We lived in Evanston, Illinois, while my two sons were growing up; I was an account executive in advertising and film. During the 1990's I taught art and humanities at Columbia College and at the International Academy of Design in Chicago.

Since moving to Tucson, Arizona, in 2000, I have been teaching art, theatre and yoga at Pima College and have been leading seminars on stress reduction. My copper enameling art continues to be my life's passion.
